

Barbie the Movie Bingo

|                                               |                                                                                  |                                  |                        |                                            |
|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| "I don't know how to feel but I want to try." | "I also just learned to cry. First I got one tear and then I got a whole bunch." | "Get into the box." Trade dress. | Crippling Shame Barbie | Skipper(r)                                 |
| Licensed music                                | Aqua "Barbie Girl"                                                               | "All of In Sync is Allen."       | Ordinary Barbie        | "Is Barbie Land an alternate reality?"     |
| Ruth inventor of Barbie                       | Weird Barbie                                                                     | FREE                      | Ruth Handler           | "I don't really feel like Barbie anymore." |
| "She thinks she's Barbie."                    | Mojo Dojo Casa House                                                             | Fur Coat                         | Allan (tm)             | Horses                                     |
| The Portal                                    | Ken(r)                                                                           | Patiarchy                        | WB Pink Logo           | Trademark                                  |

Barbie the Movie Bingo

|                                                            |                                                              |                                                                                            |                                                                      |                                                                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Ruthinventorof Barbie                              | FirstTear                                                | WeirdBarbie                                                                            | GrowingUpSkipper(r)                                      | FBImonitoring                                                          |
| Manmadeobjects notundercontrol ofthe maker | Horses                                                       | Depictionof MattelCorporation                                                      | "With all duerespect thatwas Skipper.This isBarbie." | "You've beenmaking womenfeel bad aboutthemselves..."speech |
| Midge                                                      | Licensedmusic                                            | FREE                                                                                | Kendom                                                               | "Life sizeBarbiesroamingthe earth."                            |
| "Yourespectme?"                                    | Staciedoll                                               | Fur Coat                                                                                   | "Shethinksshe'sBarbie."                                  | Hollywoodsignreference                                             |
| "All of InSync isAllen."                           | "Ken isn'tsomethingwe'reworriedabout. Ever." | "I want to bepart of thehuman whomake meaningnot a thing thatis made." | You canbeanything                                            | "Is BarbieLand analternatereality?"                            |

Barbie the Movie Bingo

|                                 |                               |                                                            |                                                  |                                                                        |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Mojo DojoCasaHouse      | Skipper(r)                    | LightsBarbieAction (r)                             | "Mattel?Thankgoodness."                  | Hollywoodsignreference                                         |
| Midge                           | What'sBarbie'sEnding? | I amKenough                                            | Life ischange.                               | Aqua"BarbieGirl"                                               |
| CripplingShameBarbie    | Packaging                     | FREE                                                | "I want toimaginenot to bethe idea." | Sugar'sDaddyKen (tm)                                           |
| Ruthinventorof Barbie   | OrdinaryBarbie            | TotallyYoyoNikki(r)                                | "Shethinksshe'sBarbie."              | 2001spaceOdyssey                                               |
| PatentableSubjectMatter | Patiarchy                     | Manmadeobjects notundercontrol ofthe maker | Mattel                                           | "I don'tcontrol therailways orthe control ofcommerce." |