

B	I	N	G	O
Has taken steps to prevent physical abuse against children.	Has actively sought information on how to address child welfare issues.	Has discussed ways to empower children and youth.	Has raised awareness about the rights of children in their community.	Has guided a child in accessing educational resources.
Has attended a workshop or training on child rights advocacy.	Has taken steps to prevent emotional abuse against children.	Has organized or participated in activities promoting social justice for children.	Has advocated for creating child-friendly spaces in the community.	Has supported a campaign against child abuse.
Has volunteered to support children in their community.	Has advocated for the best interests of a child in a given situation.	BINGO	Has explained the importance of listening to children's voices.	Has explored online resources related to child rights.
Has shared information about hotlines or helplines for children in need.	Has explored ways to support children who may be victims of violence.	Has participated in activities promoting the well-being of children.	Has encouraged a child to express their opinions and thoughts.	Has learned about legal protections for children in difficult situations.
Has attended a seminar on interventions for children and youth.	Has shared information about child protection resources with others.	Has been part of a discussion on the welfare systems supporting children.	Has worked with a Children's Aid Society or similar organization.	Has discussed the importance of equality for children.

B	I	N	G	O
Has volunteered to support children in their community.	Has worked with a Children's Aid Society or similar organization.	Has advocated for creating child-friendly spaces in the community.	Has explored ways to support children who may be victims of violence.	Has attended a workshop or training on child rights advocacy.
Has raised awareness about the rights of children in their community.	Has explored online resources related to child rights.	Has discussed ways to empower children and youth.	Has learned about legal protections for children in difficult situations.	Has advocated for the best interests of a child in a given situation.
Has explained the importance of listening to children's voices.	Has actively sought information on how to address child welfare issues.	BINGO	Has encouraged a child to express their opinions and thoughts.	Has participated in activities promoting the well-being of children.
Has discussed the importance of equality for children.	Has taken steps to prevent physical abuse against children.	Has been part of a discussion on the welfare systems supporting children.	Has shared information about hotlines or helplines for children in need.	Has attended a seminar on interventions for children and youth.
Has guided a child in accessing educational resources.	Has explained the concept of children's rights to someone else.	Has supported a campaign against child abuse.	Has organized or participated in activities promoting social justice for children.	Has taken steps to prevent emotional abuse against children.

B	I	N	G	O
Has shared information about hotlines or helplines for children in need.	Has encouraged a child to express their opinions and thoughts.	Has volunteered to support children in their community.	Has discussed the importance of equality for children.	Has raised awareness about the rights of children in their community.
Has shared information about child protection resources with others.	Has supported a campaign against child abuse.	Has worked with a Children's Aid Society or similar organization.	Has explored ways to support children who may be victims of violence.	Has advocated for the best interests of a child in a given situation.
Has participated in activities promoting the well-being of children.	Has advocated for creating child-friendly spaces in the community.	BINGO	Has explained the importance of listening to children's voices.	Has discussed ways to empower children and youth.
Has explained the concept of children's rights to someone else.	Has guided a child in accessing educational resources.	Has attended a seminar on interventions for children and youth.	Has actively sought information on how to address child welfare issues.	Has taken steps to prevent physical abuse against children.
Has taken steps to prevent emotional abuse against children.	Has organized or participated in activities promoting social justice for children.	Has explored online resources related to child rights.	Has learned about legal protections for children in difficult situations.	Has been part of a discussion on the welfare systems supporting children.