

B	I	N	G	O
Has taught hospitality or tourism for over 10 years	Has attended an international hospitality educators' conference	Has experience in accreditation or quality assurance for hospitality programs	Has organized a hospitality or tourism-related research conference	Has incorporated technology or AI into hospitality education
Has developed a community-based tourism project with students	Has served as a consultant for a hospitality or tourism business	Has led a student group on an educational tourism trip	Has been a keynote speaker at an academic or industry event	Has received an award for excellence in teaching hospitality or tourism
Has worked in both academia and the hospitality industry	Has collaborated with a hotel or tourism organization for student internships	Has expertise in cultural tourism or heritage tourism	Has expertise in revenue management or hospitality finance	Has published a paper in a hospitality or tourism journal
Has facilitated an international student exchange program in hospitality or tourism	Has mentored students who became successful hospitality professionals	Has experience in event planning and management	Has integrated virtual reality or simulation tools in hospitality education	Has conducted research on sustainable tourism
Has participated in a hospitality industry certification program	Has developed a hospitality or tourism curriculum	Has written a book or textbook on hospitality and tourism	Has developed a partnership between academia and the tourism industry	Has experience in food and beverage operations management

B	I	N	G	O
Has worked in both academia and the hospitality industry	Has collaborated with a hotel or tourism organization for student internships	Has received an award for excellence in teaching hospitality or tourism	Has been a keynote speaker at an academic or industry event	Has conducted research on sustainable tourism
Has developed a partnership between academia and the tourism industry	Has published a paper in a hospitality or tourism journal	Has expertise in cultural tourism or heritage tourism	Has incorporated technology or AI into hospitality education	Has mentored students who became successful hospitality professionals
Has developed a community-based tourism project with students	Has experience in accreditation or quality assurance for hospitality programs	Has led a student group on an educational tourism trip	Has integrated virtual reality or simulation tools in hospitality education	Has taught hospitality or tourism for over 10 years
Has facilitated an international student exchange program in hospitality or tourism	Has developed a hospitality or tourism curriculum	Has served as a consultant for a hospitality or tourism business	Has experience in event planning and management	Has organized a hospitality or tourism-related research conference
Has participated in a hospitality industry certification program	Has written a book or textbook on hospitality and tourism	Has experience in food and beverage operations management	Has attended an international hospitality educators' conference	Has expertise in revenue management or hospitality finance

B	I	N	G	O
Has published a paper in a hospitality or tourism journal	Has integrated virtual reality or simulation tools in hospitality education	Has developed a hospitality or tourism curriculum	Has developed a partnership between academia and the tourism industry	Has experience in event planning and management
Has conducted research on sustainable tourism	Has experience in food and beverage operations management	Has developed a community-based tourism project with students	Has expertise in cultural tourism or heritage tourism	Has taught hospitality or tourism for over 10 years
Has facilitated an international student exchange program in hospitality or tourism	Has participated in a hospitality industry certification program	Has led a student group on an educational tourism trip	Has collaborated with a hotel or tourism organization for student internships	Has served as a consultant for a hospitality or tourism business
Has worked in both academia and the hospitality industry	Has mentored students who became successful hospitality professionals	Has written a book or textbook on hospitality and tourism	Has been a keynote speaker at an academic or industry event	Has attended an international hospitality educators' conference
Has expertise in revenue management or hospitality finance	Has received an award for excellence in teaching hospitality or tourism	Has organized a hospitality or tourism-related research conference	Has experience in accreditation or quality assurance for hospitality programs	Has incorporated technology or AI into hospitality education