...has used voice notes because typing felt like too much effort	...can handle negotiations like a pro	...has checked themselves on camera more than the meeting	...has said "on the way" while still at their desk	...has multitasked 5 things at once
...has been in a meeting thinking about lunch	...has used AI to save time during a busy day	...has pretended to understand something in a meeting	...checks WhatsApp more than email	...has said "just 2 minutes" and taken 20
...has thought "this could have been an email"	...is always on calls	FREE	...feels uneasy until something is fully closed	...has explained the same SOP repeatedly
...has fixed a problem with a jugaad solution	...has said "will close by EOD" and prayed for it to happen	...has had a "quick site visit" turn into a long one	...has ended a conversation with "noted" to escape	...has opened a chat got distracted and forgot why
...has dealt with an "urgent" non-urgent request	...feels weird when there are no complaints	...has replied to the wrong message in a thread	...is super detail-oriented	...has blamed it on a "network issue" to escape a long call
