Wi-Fi/cell service disappears exactly when charting	Realizing your next patient is 35 minutes away with rush-hour traffic	Getting lost in a neighborhood with identical houses	Patient weighs themselves with shoes jacket and purse on	Patient says "I'm not home" while clearly answering from home
Family member answers every question for the patient	Trying to explain Medicare coverage for the 47th time	Patient starts telling their entire life story at the door	"I've been doing therapy exercises" (clearly untouched handout)	The recliner becomes the official assessment station
"I'm feeling fine today" after reporting every symptom imaginable	Can you come after 6 PM?"	OFF LOADED	Oxygen tubing tangled beyond explanation	Patient pulls out a completely different med list than what's in the chart
Surprise cat jumps onto your paperwork	Patient says they "don't use assistive devices" while holding a walker	Patient talks to you on your way to your car...and continues while you're at your car	Getting lost in apartment complex	Patient says "My doctor never told me that"
Dog barks the entire visit	Signature takes longer than the entire visit	Family member appears halfway through with "I have a few questions..."	"No medication changes" ... followed by 5 new bottles on the counter	Finding the TV volume somehow set to maximum
