

|                             |                        |                           |                    |                      |
|-----------------------------|------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------|----------------------|
| B                    | I               | N                  | G           | O             |
| uncouth                     | adjective              | about to happen           | dominant           | rude or ill-mannered |
| large amount of something   | arbitrate              | treating strangers kindly | phony or pretender | adjective            |
| quiet; easygoing            | sterilize or disinfect | FREE               | verb               | adverb               |
| pending                     | imposter               | apathy                    | in control         | shirk                |
| lack of interest or concern | plethora               | skeptical                 | hard work          | fumigate             |

|                     |                                 |                                   |                       |                               |
|---------------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|-------------------------------|
| B            | I                        | N                          | G              | O                      |
| noun                | incontrol                   | drudgery                          | anger orhostility | animosity                     |
| noun                | largeamount ofsomething | lack ofinterest orconcern | adjective             | sterilizeordisinfect  |
| settle adispute | imposter                        | FREE                       | adverb                | try to getout ofdoing |
| verb                | treatingstrangerskindly | adjective                         | pending               | rude orill-mannered       |
| arbitrate           | dominant                        | plethora                          | quiet;easygoing   | phony orpretender         |

|                 |                             |                      |           |                           |
|-----------------|-----------------------------|----------------------|-----------|---------------------------|
| B        | I                    | N             | G  | O                  |
| shirk           | adverb                      | animosity            | plethora  | large amount of something |
| arbitrate       | quiet;easygoing         | noun                 | adjective | imposter                  |
| about to happen | lack of interest or concern | FREE          | uncouth   | anger or hostility        |
| without hope    | verb                        | rude or ill-mannered | pending   | docile                    |
| verb            | adjective                   | in control           | dominant  | fumigate                  |