

|                                             |                                            |                                                         |                                                         |                                                         |
|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| B                                    | I                                   | N                                                | G                                                | O                                                |
| She had a school and a ship named after her | As a young girl brought home stray animals | First Girl Scout Handbook written in 1913               | Married William Low                                     | Grandmother captured by the Indians and lived with them |
| Designed her own clothes                    | Parents were wealthy                       | Lived in England and Scotland                           | Born October 31 1860                                    | Loved to draw and paint                                 |
| Nickname was Daisy                          | Sold her pearls to help the Girl Scouts    | FREE                                             | Born in Savannah Georgia                                | Founded Girl Scouts in the USA                          |
| First troop was in Scotland                 | Met Lord and Lady Powell in England        | Girls in first troop played basketball and went camping | First meeting in the United States was on March 12 1912 | Had 3 sisters and 2 brothers                            |
| First Troop had 18 girls                    | Deaf most of her adult life                | Loved animals especially horses                         | liked to put on plays and skits                         | Earned good grades in school                            |

|                                                         |                                 |                                                         |                                |                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| B                                                | I                        | N                                                | G                       | O                                   |
| Sold her pearls to help the Girl Scouts                 | Born October 31 1860            | Married William Low                                     | Designed her own clothes       | Lived in England and Scotland              |
| First Girl Scout Handbook written in 1913               | liked to put on plays and skits | Grandmother captured by the Indians and lived with them | Deaf most of her adult life    | Loved to draw and paint                    |
| First troop was in Scotland                             | Born in Savannah Georgia        | FREE                                             | Founded Girl Scouts in the USA | As a young girl brought home stray animals |
| First meeting in the United States was on March 12 1912 | Loved animals especially horses | She had a school and a ship named after her             | Earned good grades in school   | Met Lord and Lady Powell in England        |
| Girls in first troop played basketball and went camping | Had 3 sisters and 2 brothers    | Nickname was Daisy                                      | Parents were wealthy           | First Troop had 18 girls                   |

|                                             |                                            |                                                         |                                     |                                                         |
|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| B                                    | I                                   | N                                                | G                            | O                                                |
| Deaf most of her adult life                 | Loved animals especially horses            | Born October 31 1860                                    | Had 3 sisters abd 2 brothers        | Born in Savannah Georgia                                |
| She had a school and a ship named after her | Frist troop was in Scotland                | Girls in first troop played basketball and went camping | Parents were wealthy                | Grandmother captured by the Indians and lived with them |
| Nickname was Daisy                          | Earned good grades in school               | FREE                                             | Met Lord and Lady Powell in England | First meeting in the United States was on March 12 1912 |
| Sord her pearls to help the Girl Scouts     | Loved to draw and paint                    | Married William Low                                     | liked to put on plays and skits     | First Girl Scout Handbook written in 1913               |
| Founded Girl Scouts in the USA              | As a young girl brought home stray animals | Lived in England and Scotland                           | Designed her own clothes            | First Troop had 18 girls                                |