

| L                                                         | O                                                                 | T                                                              | U                                                                           | S                                                                          |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| went to the movies not to watch but to sleep              | a distinguished public servant for 40 yrs who served 7 Presidents | headed the Phil Army during the East Timor conflict            | stole a car emblem at the school parking lot                                | playing lucky 9 using text book pages                                      |
| goes back & forth form here and abroad for Apostolic duty | was tormented by Rex Eliseo in high school                        | prepares difficult test questions and hopes there's no leakage | been traveling around the world with a doctor in tow                        | spent some time at Camp Crame during Martial Law                           |
| wakes up at midnight to pee at least 2 times              | wore the most planchadong skirt with almirol in HS                | FREE                                                    | catered many MR's where classmates paid with SR card discount-may sukli pa! | left for vacation wearing an unmatched pair of shoes                       |
| lived in the US for some time but went home for good      | takes Metformin as a daily regimen                                | made us laugh in HS and now the Funny Lady of Songs!           | hosted the grandest wedding of a daughter in US                             | prayed for departed Preprians in our 1st GR in '99 but one has resurrected |
| hopped into someone's car thinking it was her 'sundo'     | did the covers of a prestigious magazine in HongKong              | scared the hell out of his wife when he fainted                | wore the tightest pants/shortest skirt                                      | has technical skills & artistic eye who wish he worked for Playboy Mag.    |

|                                                      |                                                                             |                                              |                                                                         |                                                                   |
|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| L                                             | O                                                                    | T                                     | U                                                                | S                                                          |
| wore the most planchadong skirt with almirol in HS   | been traveling around the world with a doctor in tow                        | stole a car emblem at the school parking lot | goes back & forth form here and abroad for Apostolic duty               | prepares difficult test questions and hopes there's no leakage    |
| headed the Phil Army during the East Timor conflict  | wore the tightest pants/shortest skirt                                      | playing lucky 9 using text book pages        | did the covers of a prestigious magazine in HongKong                    | spent some time at Camp Crame during Martial Law                  |
| lived in the US for some time but went home for good | catered many MR's where classmates paid with SR card discount-may sukli pa! | FREE                                  | left for vacation wearing an unmatched pair of shoes                    | a distinguished public servant for 40 yrs who served 7 Presidents |
| hosted the grandest wedding of a daughter in US      | scared the hell out of his wife when he fainted                             | went to the movies not to watch but to sleep | has technical skills & artistic eye who wish he worked for Playboy Mag. | takes Metformin as a daily regimen                         |
| made us laugh in HS and now the Funny Lady of Songs! | prayed for departed Prepians in our 1st GR in '99 but one has resurrected   | wakes up at midnight to pee at least 2 times | was tormented by Rex Eliseo in high school                              | hopped into someone's car thinking it was her 'sundo'             |

|                                                      |                                                                         |                                                                |                                                                            |                                                                             |
|------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| L                                             | O                                                                | T                                                       | U                                                                   | S                                                                    |
| did the covers of a prestigious magazine in HongKong | scared the hell out of his wife when he fainted                         | been traveling around the world with a doctor in tow           | prayed for departed Preprians in our 1st GR in '99 but one has resurrected | catered many MR's where classmates paid with SR card discount-may sukli pa! |
| went to the movies not to watch but to sleep         | lived in the US for some time but went home for good                    | made us laugh in HS and now the Funny Lady of Songs!           | was tormented by Rex Eliseo in high school                                 | playing lucky 9 using text book pages                                       |
| wakes up at midnight to pee at least 2 times         | has technical skills & artistic eye who wish he worked for Playboy Mag. | FREE                                                    | takes Metformin as a daily regimen                                         | hosted the grandest wedding of a daughter in US                             |
| wore the most planchadong skirt with almirol in HS   | spent some time at Camp Crame during Martial Law                        | stole a car emblem at the school parking lot                   | wore the tightest pants/shortest skirt                                     | headed the Phil Army during the East Timor conflict                         |
| left for vacation wearing an unmatched pair of shoes | a distinguished public servant for 40 yrs who served 7 Presidents       | prepares difficult test questions and hopes there's no leakage | goes back & forth form here and abroad for Apostolic duty                  | hopped into someone's car thinking it was her 'sundo'                       |