

| L                                            | E                        | A                                       | F                           | O                                |
|----------------------------------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------------------|
| therapeutic properties                       | Cannabidiol              | nerve and muscle relaxant               | reduces vomiting and nausea | reduced risk of artery blockage  |
| inhibits cell growth in tumors/ cancer cells | suppresses muscle spasms | reduces blood sugar levels              | aids sleep                  | reduces inflammation             |
| stimulates appetite                          | treats psoriasis         | FREE                                    | anti-bacterial              | phytocannabinoids                |
| prevents nervous system degeneration         | relieves anxiety         | promotes Bone growth                    | pain relief                 | reduced seizures and convulsions |
| non-psychoactive                             | healthy immune function  | reduces contractions in small intestine | used to manage psychosis    | kills or slows bacteria growth   |

|                                      |                                         |                                 |                                              |                            |
|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| L                             | E                                | A                        | F                                     | O                   |
| treats psoriasis                     | aids sleep                              | reduces vomiting and nausea     | inhibits cell growth in tumors/ cancer cells | reduces blood sugar levels |
| nerve and muscle relaxant            | used to manage psychosis                | reduced risk of artery blockage | healthy immune function                      | reduces inflammation       |
| prevents nervous system degeneration | anti-bacterial                          | FREE                     | phytocannabinoids                            | Cannabidiol                |
| pain relief                          | reduces contractions in small intestine | therapeutic properties          | kills or slows bacteria growth               | relieves anxiety           |
| promotes Bone growth                 | reduced seizures and convulsions        | stimulates appetite             | suppresses muscle spasms                     | non-psychoactive           |

|                         |                                         |                             |                                              |                                 |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| L                | E                                | A                    | F                                     | O                        |
| healthy immune function | reduces contractions in small intestine | aids sleep                  | reduced seizures and convulsions             | anti-bacterial                  |
| therapeutic properties  | prevents nervous system degeneration    | promotes Bone growth        | suppresses muscle spasms                     | reduced risk of artery blockage |
| stimulates appetite     | kills or slows bacteria growth          | FREE                 | relieves anxiety                             | pain relief                     |
| treats psoriasis        | reduces inflammation                    | reduces vomiting and nausea | used to manage psychosis                     | nerve and muscle relaxant       |
| phytocannabinoids       | Cannabidiol                             | reduces blood sugar levels  | inhibits cell growth in tumors/ cancer cells | non-psychoactive                |