

|                                          |                                          |                                       |                                      |                                   |
|------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Not calling gma enough                   | Amy says Whabobabobbbob                  | Covid interrogation                   | Ken or June mention bedlam           | June or Claire want to see airbnb |
| Claire mentions Angie's post             | Malcolm wants to know what route we took | Ken complains about internet          | At least 1 chin diaper               | Ken or June lowers mask to talk   |
| Malcolm mentions motorcycles             | Real estate bad idea                     | Ken is thankful for no more tr        | Backhanded comment about us moving   | Duck pond                         |
| Giving advice on ST have no biz advising | Lulu will get muddy                      | Grandkids                             | David is asked about his job search  | June talks about thunder          |
| David doesn't touch dogs                 | Claire asks about my family first        | Ken has more than 3 drinks in 3 hours | Shame about covid killing a business | Complaint about construction      |

|                                          |                                       |                                   |                                          |                                 |
|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Real estate bad idea                     | At least 1 chin diaper                | Ken or June mention bedlam        | Claire mentions Angie's post             | Ken complains about internet    |
| Covid interrogation                      | Shame about covid killing a business  | June or Claire want to see airbnb | Claire asks about my family first        | Ken or June lowers mask to talk |
| Giving advice on ST have no biz advising | Backhanded comment about us moving    | Ken is thankful for no more tr    | Duck pond                                | Amy says Whabobabobbbob         |
| David is asked about his job search      | Ken has more than 3 drinks in 3 hours | Not calling gma enough            | Complaint about construction             | Lulu will get muddy             |
| Grandkids                                | June talks about thunder              | Malcolm mentions motorcycles      | Malcolm wants to know what route we took | David doesn't touch dogs        |

|                                   |                                          |                                |                                          |                                     |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Claire asks about my family first | Ken has more than 3 drinks in 3 hours    | At least 1 chin diaper         | June talks about thunder                 | Backhanded comment about us moving  |
| Not calling gma enough            | Giving advice on ST have no biz advising | Grandkids                      | Malcolm wants to know what route we took | June or Claire want to see airbnb   |
| Malcolm mentions motorcycles      | Complaint about construction             | Ken is thankful for no more tr | Lulu will get muddy                      | David is asked about his job search |
| Real estate bad idea              | Ken or June lowers mask to talk          | Ken or June mention bedlam     | Shame about covid killing a business     | Covid interrogation                 |
| Duck pond                         | Amy says Whabobabobbbob                  | Ken complains about internet   | Claire mentions Angie's post             | David doesn't touch dogs            |