

|                                                       |                                                     |                                                              |                                        |                                                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| Was the governor of a 17th Century village for a year | Baked 14 gingerbread houses for a girl scout troop  | 6 star marathon finisher                                     | Has a photographic memory              | Rode a bike 5 000 miles to Moscow and back over 62 days |
| My middle name is Rainbow                             | Founder of Band Camp                                | Was once a bicycle courier                                   | Paid for a 4-hour cab ride in Alaska   | Bill Murray helped me take out the trash                |
| Rob pulled me up the side of a cliff                  | Two 50-point-scoring basketball games in one season | Knows Ami or Rob                                             | Watched 7 babies be born               | Can read most books in one day                          |
| Only Sogg-side cousin at the wedding                  | I've lived in Berlin - Germany and Massachusetts    | For 4 years stitched together a daily 1 sec video of my life | Like to cook and create my own recipes | Smoked weed with Jerry Garcia when they were 15         |
| Modeled nude in a bathtub                             | Read 80 books last year                             | Took a horse to college                                      | Henry Winkler played the piano for me  | Has traveled to 25 countries couriering artwork         |

|                                                         |                                                                |                                                        |                                                                 |                                        |
|---------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|
| Obsessed with my birding app                            | Like to cook and create my own recipes                         | Has an enormous t-shirt collection                     | Did homework at Chuck Close's house                             | Failed my drivers licence test 3 times |
| One of 16 Maki nibblings                                | My photos of the Golden Gate Bridge have been widely published | My dad only spoke to me in Spanish until I was four    | Built his first computer at age 12                              | Was a model in in Japan                |
| Drive a 115-year-old car that doesn't use gasoline      | Runs an observatory and is a huge Todd Rundgren                | Knows Ami or Rob                                       | I've lived in Berlin - Germany and Massachusetts                | Can read most books in one day         |
| Was once a bicycle courier                              | Bill Murray helped me take out the trash                       | Watched 7 babies be born                               | Was first girl who played little league baseball in my hometown | Only Sogg-side cousin at the wedding   |
| Rode a bike 5 000 miles to Moscow and back over 62 days | Knows how to dismantle an atomic bomb                          | Lost 2 parakeets...found them later in different towns | Founder of Band Camp                                            | Has a photographic memory              |

|                                                                     |                                                                    |                                      |                                                       |                                                         |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| Was a model in in Japan                                      | Plans to backpack around Europe when he graduates from high school | Woke up in New Orleans with a tattoo | Saved by an Italian-speaking Chinese tourist in Italy | Rob pulled me up the side of a cliff                    |
| Performed Rachmaninoff's piano concerto No. 2 on the Japanese Drums | Smoked weed with Jerry Garcia when they were 15                    | Can read most books in one day       | Field commander for HS marching band                  | Planted 150 000 trees and cooked 5 800 meals one summer |
| My photos of the Golden Gate Bridge have been widely published      | Founder of Band Camp                                        | Knows Ami or Rob                     | Read 80 books last year                        | On a realty show... that never aired                    |
| Baked 14 gingerbread houses for a girl scout troop                  | I've lived in Berlin - Germany and Massachusetts                   | 6 star marathon finisher      | My dad only spoke to me in Spanish until I was four   | One of 16 Maki nibblings                         |
| Was the New England solo accordion champ                            | Drive a 115-year-old car that doesn't use gasoline                 | You can find my music on Spotify     | Won a 1 year supply of Cinnamon Toast Crunch          | Grew up in Berkeley                              |